

Guidelines for Submission to the Research Letters section of the Japanese Journal of Agricultural Economics (JJAE), 2023

1. Eligibility of submission

Authors who have presented at the ASAE 2023 conference are eligible for submitting their manuscripts to the Research Letters section of the JJAE. Authors whose presentations were accepted but not presented at the conference are not eligible for submission. The manuscripts must be constructed based on the presentation at the ASAE meeting. Submission charge of JPY 5,000 has to be paid in advance of submission.

2. Documents and Files for Submission (for details, see JJAE Guidelines for Submission, which have been uploaded on the AESJ website <https://www.aesjapan.or.jp/postreg_e>)

(1) Manuscript

1) PDF file (maximum 2MB) of the manuscript that has been written following the guidelines for submission to the JJAE and the detailed instructions for submission to the JJAE. The authors should use the template for “Manuscript of Research Letters.” The formats and templates of these documents are available on the website of AESJ. Please refer to the latest instructions for submission available on the website <https://www.aesjapan.or.jp/postreg_e>.

2) The authors should not fill in “name,” “affiliations,” and “e-mail address of corresponding author.” However, the lines for filling in these items should be kept empty, because the whole format will be destroyed if the lines are removed. The relevant information of the authors should be entered after the manuscript has been accepted.

3) Figures and tables must be clearly printed in black and white. Color print should not be used.

(2) Excel file of submission form for research letters

The authors must provide a mailing address where the corresponding author will certainly receive the invoice. The editorial board cannot take responsibility if the corresponding author does not receive the invoice for publication.

(3) PDF file of the proof of payment of the submission charge (JPY 5,000).

The bank accounts for payment of the submission charge are as follows:

- For residents of Japan:

Savings Transfer Account Number (Japan Postal Bank): 00190-2-588080
